

SHADOWS

I can make a shadow.

The bright sunlight shines on me, but it can't shine through me. My body blocks the sunlight and makes a shadow on the ground.

My shadow does what I do.

When I climb the wall,
my shadow climbs the wall, too.

When I walk up the steps,
my shadow zigzags up the steps.

When the sun is high in the sky, my shadow gets shorter, and it looks fat.

When the sun is low in the sky, my shadow grows longer, and it looks skinny.

Sunlight isn't the only kind of light that can make a shadow. The light from a lamp can make a shadow, too.

What do you need to make a shadow?

1. a light
2. something to block the light
3. a surface for the shadow to fall on

Article by Lisa Zimmerman
Photos by Michael Goss
Art by Ed Miller